INTER-AMERICAN COURT OF HUMAN RIGHTS ANNOUNCES NEW WAY OF NOTIFYING JUDGMENTS

San José, Costa Rica, August 24, 2022. As of September 1, this year the Inter-American Court of Human Rights, in accordance with the provisions of Article 69 of the American Convention and Article 67 of its Regulations, will publicly notify its judgments in order to strengthen communication and knowledge about its decisions.

In this new notification process, the parties and the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights will be given prior notice and summoned to a virtual official notification of the judgment, where the President of the Court will proceed to read the central and operative points. This reading of the judgment will be broadcast on the Court's social networks.

At the same time as the judgment is read, the written version of the judgment will be sent electronically to the parties and the Inter-American Commission and will immediately be posted on the Court's website and made known on its social networks.

"New information and communication technologies allow us to maximize the dissemination of the Court's judgments and thereby increase the level of knowledge and legitimacy of our Court's work in the protection of human rights in Latin America and the Caribbean", highlighted the President of the Court, Judge Ricardo C. Pérez Manrique.

"We are an 'Open Door' Court, which includes giving the decisions issued by this Court the widest possible dissemination, which will only increase with public notification of judgments," said the President of the Inter-American Court.
